

The next three weeks in Washington will be an extremely quiet period from a social standpoint. Although nearly all official homes are now open, the heads thereof will be too much engrossed in politics and affairs of state for even the informal exchange of courtesies that usually mark the return of the administration families to the Capital.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt will continue to entertain small companies at luncheon and dinner, as has been their custom in past years, but Mrs. Roosevelt will this season, by reason of a recent death in her family, eliminate the several afternoon teas with which she has been accustomed to open the White House.

The Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks, who, according to their original programme, are remaining as late as possible at their Indiana home, will celebrate Thanksgiving in Washington, when they hope to have all their children with them for the day.

Leut. and Mrs. Timmons, the latter the only daughter of the family, who are now in the West enjoying Lieut. Timmons' leave of absence, have given up their house on Le Roy place, and on their return to town will probably be with the Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks for at least a part of the season. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Fairbanks, whose recent marriage in Ohio has been a matter of wide comment, will go to Indianapolis this week for a visit to the bridegroom's parents before deciding upon their plans for the winter.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Root are established in their new home, 1500 Rhode Island avenue, the former residence of ex-Vice President and Mrs. Morton, and more recently known as the Russian Embassy.

Although greatly improved for its present tenants, the furnishings of the house are not likely to be completed for several weeks to come. Mrs. Root, who goes to New York to-day for a short visit to her mother, Mrs. S. H. Wales, will on her return bring many of her own possessions to add to those already removed from her former residence on Sixteenth street. The color scheme in this chief of the Cabinet homes will be a beautiful rich red throughout.

Edward W. Root, the younger of the Secretary's two sons, will be with his parents in Washington until the first of the year. Miss Root, the only daughter, who accompanied her parents on their recent trip to South America, is at present visiting relatives in New York.

The residences of other Cabinet officers remain unchanged since last spring, with Mrs. Taft, Mrs. Hitchcock, Mrs. Cortelyou, and Mrs. Metcalf all at home. Mrs. Bonaparte made a short visit to her apartment at the Portland last week, but is still at her country place near Baltimore, and later will move into the latter city for the winter. She will, however, come to Washington for all official entertainments of the Cabinet circle.

Mrs. Shaw and the Misses Shaw will return to Washington after the election, when it is possible the name of Miss Emma Shaw may be added to the still growing list of debutantes, the doubt existing on the subject being occasioned by the young lady's own uncertainty of mind as to the desirability of a formal debut. In any case, she will be with her mother and sister at the Arlington, and as her school days are over, will have to be reckoned among the young people of the administration circle, which never had so few young people to its credit as at present.

The Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Hitchcock are enjoying a visit from their daughter, Mrs. William S. Sims, and her infant daughter. Mrs. Sims will remain with her parents until the return of her husband from target practice, when they will open their new home on Seventeenth street, having given up their apartment at Stoneleigh Court.

The Secretary of Commerce and Labor, like the Secretary of State, will have his son with him for the winter. Mr. Howard Metcalf having returned to Washington to read law, Miss Chabot, who was Mrs. Metcalf's guest for the season last year, will only make a short visit to the family this season en route to California, where she will pass the winter at Santa Barbara.

One of the most interesting of the coming weddings will be that of Miss Cathleen Clayton, youngest daughter of the former Ambassador to Mexico and Mrs. Powell Clayton, to Mr. Arthur Grant-Duff, of the British diplomatic service, which will take place in this city Monday, November 12. The ceremony, which will be attended only by members of the respective families, will take place at 4 o'clock at the Belgian Legation, where the bride-to-be is now the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Baron and Baroness Newlands, youngest of the three daughters of Senator Newlands, of Nevada, and through her mother, who was a Miss Sharon, of California, one of the greatest of Washington's present day heiresses.

Mrs. Alan Johnston, wife of the British Minister at Copenhagen, was Miss Pinchot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Pinchot, of this city and New York. Mrs. Darrah Crankhorst, wife of a former secretary of the British Embassy in Washington, but now at Brussels, is the daughter of Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, and lived throughout Europe as one of the most beautiful women in the diplomatic circle.

The Marquise de Chambrun, formerly Miss Nichols, of Cincinnati, met her husband when he was an attaché at the French Embassy, and she is a resident of Washington by reason of her stepfather, Mr. Bellamy Storer, representing an Ohio district in Congress. On succeeding to his present title, the former attaché left the diplomatic service to enter the French House of Deputies. Miss Louise Bonaparte, daughter of the late General Bonaparte, and niece of the present Secretary of the Navy, who is now the Countess de Mothe-Hustell, of Denmark, was a Washington bride who met her husband in Paris, where he was attaché of the French legation of his country. Count de Mothe has since resigned from the diplomatic service and lives most of the year on his estate in Denmark.

Madame Agnès de Wollant, wife of the late appointed Russian Minister to Mexico, was Miss Helen Tiedel, of this city, and Mme. Pierre Rogostevsky, now with her husband at the Russian Embassy in China, was Miss Martha Hoy, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Scott, of Washington. D. C., was married to Mr. Edgar C. McGregor, formerly of Decatur, Ala. The Rev. Edgar Lilly Langham, of Louisville, Ky., are conspicuous examples of successful and happy American women who have achieved in the social life of the early winter. The young Baroness von Sternburg, who returns from a summer at Beverly Farms, Mass., looking prettier than ever, will be fully able to maintain the dignity of her husband's embassy, which, from every point of view, is one of the most important in America.

The Baroness Moncheur, wife of the Belgian Minister, who dispenses the hospitality of one of the gayest legations in the city, was Miss Charlotte Clayton, of Arkansas, daughter of Hon. Powell Clayton, the former Ambassador to Mexico. The Baroness, who is considerably the junior of her husband, is his second wife, the first Baroness Moncheur also having been an American, a Miss Holman, of New York, and half-sister of Mr. Edward Fadelord, of this city.

Mme. van Swinderen, wife of the Minister from the Netherlands, is a typical Washingtonian of the old resident set, who as Miss Glover was one of the reigning belles of her native city up to the time of her marriage two years ago. The Minister and Mme. van Swinderen are just returning from a summer in Europe.

Mme. Hauge, wife of the Minister from Norway, is another comparatively recent addition to the diplomatic circle, who made her first appearance at the Norwegian court last summer. Mme. Hauge was before her present marriage Mrs. Frederick Joy, of Louisville, Ky., and Bar Harbor, her marriage to Mr. Hauge being the culmination of a romance begun at the Maine resort, when the present Minister was secretary of the dual legation of Norway and Sweden.

Mrs. Grant Watson, wife of a recently appointed attaché of the British Embassy, who is still at her summer home at Lenox, was a Miss Low, of New York, and promises to be extremely popular during the coming winter.

Of the American women abroad to whom fate has brought fame and fortune, a large proportion are Washingtonians by education or adoption, if not by birth. Lady Howard, wife of the British Ambassador to The Hague, by reason of her years and service, deserves first place on the roster of American dames in diplomacy.

She was a Miss Riggs, of this city, a daughter of the late founder of the Riggs Bank. Another well-known Washingtonian, and notably charming woman, is Mme. Bakmeteff, wife of the Russian Ambassador to Japan, who as Miss Mamie Beale, daughter of the late Edward Beale, married M. Bakmeteff when he was young attaché of the Russian Legation in this city some twenty years ago. A contemporary of Mme. Bakmeteff's, although not married until many years later, is the Duchess d'Arcos, wife of the Spanish Minister at Rome, who was Miss Virginia Lowery, a belle and heiress, whose marriage followed an engagement of many years which the present Duke, who first came to Washington as an untitled young attaché, won his way to the top of the diplomatic ladder and overcame the deep-seated objection of his fiancée's family. The Duke d'Arcos returned to Washington as the first Minister from his country after the Spanish-American war, when the charm and tact of his wife, who was a society girl, did much to restore the social relations of the two nations.

Mrs. Patenotre, wife of the former Ambassador from France, now at Madrid, was Miss Elverson, daughter of Col. James Elverson, of Philadelphia and Georgetown, whose marriage took place very shortly after the bride's debut, and opened the most brilliant social life the French Embassy in this city has ever known.

Preceding the marriage of the Baron and Baroness von Sternburg was a number of German-American alliances, the most brilliant undoubtedly being that of Count von Goetzen and Mrs. William Matthews Lay, a beautiful young widow, who enjoyed great prominence in Washington eight years ago, and is now a prime favorite in the court circles at Berlin. The Count's interest in Africa, where his husband acted for several years as colonial governor of the German possessions.

The marriage of Mr. Adolph von Brunn, one of the richest, but an untitled member of the German Embassy, to Gordon McKay in the spring of 1905 is still remembered as one of the most romantic of Washington marriages. The German Emperor, who frankly dislikes American marriages for his officers, withheld his consent to the match so long that it took place without this important condition, and was consequently followed by a long period of waiting orders for the bridegroom, who has only recently been returning to a European post, and is now with his fascinating wife at Bucharest.

The widow of Baroness von Ketteler, formerly Miss Maud Ledyard, of Detroit, met her fate when in Washington, when a visitor to the family of the late Senator McMillan, in Baron Ketteler, then secretary of embassy in this city.

The most recent of the German bridegrooms is Lieut. von Bredow, late military attaché in this city, but now with his regiment in Berlin, who last year married Miss Frances Newlands, youngest of the three daughters of Senator Newlands, of Nevada, and through her mother, who was a Miss Sharon, of California, one of the greatest of Washington's present day heiresses.

Mrs. Alan Johnston, wife of the British Minister at Copenhagen, was Miss Pinchot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Pinchot, of this city and New York.

Mrs. Darrah Crankhorst, wife of a former secretary of the British Embassy in Washington, but now at Brussels, is the daughter of Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, and lived throughout Europe as one of the most beautiful women in the diplomatic circle.

The Marquise de Chambrun, formerly Miss Nichols, of Cincinnati, met her husband when he was an attaché at the French Embassy, and she is a resident of Washington by reason of her stepfather, Mr. Bellamy Storer, representing an Ohio district in Congress. On succeeding to his present title, the former attaché left the diplomatic service to enter the French House of Deputies. Miss Louise Bonaparte, daughter of the late General Bonaparte, and niece of the present Secretary of the Navy, who is now the Countess de Mothe-Hustell, of Denmark, was a Washington bride who met her husband in Paris, where he was attaché of the French legation of his country. Count de Mothe has since resigned from the diplomatic service and lives most of the year on his estate in Denmark.

Mrs. Rulleser, of Belgium, was Miss Caroline Story, daughter of Gen. and Mrs. John P. Story.

Among the younger attaches and secretaries who have won American wives in the past few years are Lieut. Commander Bertram, of France, who married Miss Ivy Langham, while the latter was visiting her sister, the Baroness von Sternburg. The Marquis Camille Romano and Count Della Gherardese, of Italy, each of whom married a Miss Taylor of New York, though of different families; Mr. J. H. van Roijen, of the Dutch Legation, who married Miss Winthrop, also of New York, and a cousin of the Countess Gherardese, and Senator Don Juan Riano, of the Spanish Embassy in Paris, formerly charge d'affaires, in this city whose wife was Miss Alice Ward.

Mr. William A. Bell and Mr. Archie Bell, of England, and Manitou, Colo., have been passing the week in Washington, the guests of Miss Rulleser. Miss Seward returned some weeks ago to her home on Nineteenth street to receive Lord and Lady Kelbourne, who made a short visit to America, as a part of their prolonged wedding journey. Lord Kelbourne married Miss Hyacinth Bell, in June, at her father's house, Pendell Court, Surrey.

A delightful addition to society this season will be the family of Mr. Alfred Le Breton, who has taken the house, 918 Barrington square, where Mrs. Le Breton and Miss Marguerite Le Breton are already established. The latter, who made her debut two seasons ago, when she was presented at the Court of St. James, and enjoyed much distinguished attention in London by reason of her piquant beauty and aristocratic personality. Mrs. Le Breton and her daughter spent last season in Rome, where Miss Le Breton was an acknowledged belle in the dancing, hunting, and bridge-playing sets. Mrs. Le Breton comes from Washington to be with her son, Ensign David McD. Le Breton, who recently was ordered here for duty. She will be joined later by her husband, who is now in California, where he has large business interests.

Mrs. Albert Key, wife of Lieut. Commander Key, naval attaché at the White House, returned with her children last evening, but until the completion of improvements in the home Commander Key recently purchased on I street, she will be with her sister, Mrs. Judson, at the latter's residence, 1629 I street.

Miss Natalie Driggs, daughter of Lieut. Commander William H. Driggs, will be among the season's debutantes. Miss Driggs will be a pleasant addition to the group of army and navy girls making their first bow to society this season. Her parents' home, on Sheridan circle, is already well known to the young people of the service.

Brig. Gen. Charles G. Sawtelle, U. S. A., retired, upon his return from Europe, will be located at 1925 N street. Mrs. Elliott and Miss Elliott, wife and daughter of Lieut. Commander John M. Elliott, U. S. N., now with his ship in the Orient, will leave shortly for the Pacific Coast, en route for Manila and Japan.

Mrs. Charles Carroll Lee and her daughter, Miss Mary D. Lee, whose engagement to Outbridge Horsey has been announced, have leased the house 1501 Eighteenth street for the winter. The date for Miss Lee's wedding is Tuesday, November 27.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ward, of New York, have been the guests of Mr. Samuel Ward, of 1088 I street, during the week. They left for Porto Rico yesterday, where Mr. Ward will continue the duties of auditor.

The Marquis Cecily De Wentworth left Washington on Friday for New York, en route for Paris. She has almost completed a portrait of President Roosevelt, which she had several sittings while in Washington. The picture is to be exhibited in the French Salon.

The recent announcement from Montana that Senator William A. Clark would not seek re-election to the Senate is of particular social interest in Washington, as it is coupled with the further information that Senator Clark's successor is likely to be Gov. Joseph O. Toole, whose wife is a daughter of the late Gen. Rosecrans, of civil war fame, who, like Miss Lily Rosecrans, was one of the belles of Washington society twenty years ago.

Rear Admiral Charles T. Hutchins, U. S. N., retired, and Mrs. Hutchins have returned from a pleasant sojourn at Warrenton, Va., and are again located at their home, 822 Eighteenth street northwest.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Brandegee, the latter formerly Mrs. Charles F. Sprague, of this city, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, at their home, Faulkner Farm, Jamaica Plains, where they passed the summer. Mrs. Brandegee is well remembered in Washington as the wife of the late Representative Sprague, of Massachusetts, when they occupied the large house of former Vice President and Mrs. Morton, and which has just been leased by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Root. Her marriage to Mr. Brandegee came as a great surprise to society two years ago. This recent arrival is Mrs. Brandegee's third daughter, her children by her first marriage being the Misses Marion and Eleanor Sprague.

Brig. Gen. John C. Pershing and Mrs. Pershing, who arrived last week at Vancouver from Japan, where the former has been acting as military attaché at the American Embassy in Tokyo, are now en route for Washington, where they will spend some time. Mrs. Pershing was Miss Frances Warren, daughter of Senator Warren, of Wyoming, whose marriage took place in this city less than two years ago.

Lieut. Robert W. Leshler, Third Cavalry, who has been temporarily in Washington for the past eighteen months, has been ordered to rejoin his regiment in the Philippines. Accompanied by Mrs. Leshler, Lieut. Leshler left Washington this week for San Francisco, where he will sail for the Philippines.

The engagement is announced of Miss Beatrice Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Morgan, of Short Hills, N. Y., and granddaughter of Mrs. David P. Morgan, of this city, to Mr. Frederick S. Pruyne, of Albany. Miss Morgan made her debut two years ago in New York, when her grandmother gave a large ball at Sherry's in her honor. Mr. Pruyne is well known in society and was graduated from Harvard two years ago.

On Thursday, October 18, in Grace church, Alexandria, Va., Miss Lennie L. Scott, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Scott, of Washington, D. C., was married to Mr. Edgar C. McGregor, formerly of Decatur, Ala. The Rev. Edgar Carpenter officiated. Miss Mamie Hantzmon and Mr. Charles W. Scott were the only attendants. Mr. and Mrs. McGregor will be at home to their friends at 16 Third street northeast.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Glover have moved from their country home, "Westover," north of Georgetown, to their town house, 1706 K street.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Norman have sold their house in Boston and purpose making Washington their permanent winter home. Mrs. Norman has entirely recovered from her recent illness.

Mrs. Audenried, who went to Pennsylvania to make several visits at the conclusion of her season at Virginia Hot Springs, has returned to town and opened her home on Vermont avenue for the winter.

Mrs. Richard Mulligan, who has just closed her cottage on the Maine coast, will spend a short time with Mrs. Audenried while she is superintending the reopening of her home on M street.

Mrs. Leuze, wife of Capt. Eugene H. C. Leuze, commandant of the navy yard here, will not be at home on Monday afternoons until after November 15.

Mrs. Edgar, wife of Lieut. Commander Webster A. Edgar, U. S. N., whose eldest son has just entered the Naval Academy, will close her home in Cazenovia, N. Y., in November, and will take a home in Washington for the winter.

Mr. Augustine Linahan, of New Haven, formerly a student of Georgetown College, and at present engaged in mining operations in Georgia, is the guest of Mr. Gerald Egan, at 2303 Nineteenth street.

Charles Sweeney, of New York, son of Charles M. Sweeney, of Oregon, is at the Cosmos Club.

Mr. Arthur Maher, of Norfolk, Va., president of the Norfolk and Western Railway, is visiting his sons, who are at the Catholic University. Mr. Maher is at the Willard.

The Misses Ellen and Esther Dunwoody, daughters of Gen. Dunwoody, U. S. A., will spend the winter in Canada at the Chateau de Liberte, the fashionable finishing school of Montreal and Quebec. They both attended Gunston, and have now left the city to complete their education.

Dr. and Mrs. James, who for the past three or four years, have made their home on P street between Thirtieth and Thirty-first, have recently moved to No. 5 Dupont circle, where they will reside in the future.

Miss Bessie Hoover, of 208 P street, is visiting her uncle, Mr. William Hoover, in Oklahoma, where she is having a most charming visit. She has made many new friends, who have entertained her extensively, and who have made so many engagements for her that she will not be back until Christmas.

In spite of the inclement weather on Friday evening there were many persons present at the studio musicale of Mme. J. Espata-Daly and Mr. Norman Daly. Miss Janet Hayes, a promising contralto, sang several songs with fine effect. Mr. Charles Black, basso, and Mr. Maud More, soprano, also sang. Mr. Daly's playing is always a joy, as is the beautiful voice of his mother. Mme. Daly's ex-students are many in prominent positions in Washington.

The Espata-Daly Friday evenings occur biweekly. Admission by card.

The Masonic Temple was the scene of a successful entertainment in aid of St. Agnes' Episcopal Hospital on Wednesday evening, when a musical and literary programme of unusual interest was followed by a dance.

The committee in charge consisted of Mr. Thomas H. Watson, chairman; Mr. G. William Keenan, treasurer; Mr. M. E. Abbott, Mrs. G. H. Stremmer, Mrs. G. W. Keenan, Mrs. H. E. Udston, and Miss Rebecca Montgomery.

The first hour of the entertainment, which began at 8:30, was devoted to the following program: "Queen of Sheba," Mr. J. B. Erwin (Mr. John Salt, accompanist); reading, Mr. D. J. Roberts; tenor solo, "Milton Streamer," the laughable sketch, "Gentleman Jim" (Maud Howell-Smith, a literary woman); Mr. Finley S. Hayes, Gentleman Jim; vocal solo, "O Let Night Speak of Me" (Chadwick); Miss Edna Sherry; double face dance, Miss Anne Howell and Master Elmer Doner; Mozart Quartet, "The Chapel" (Kreutzner); Mr. E. M. Tansill, Mr. J. B. Caldwell, Mr. J. W. Meyers, and Mr. H. C. Nails.

Miss Katharine Du Bose has returned to the city, after a very delightful visit to her cousin, Miss Alice Du Bose, in Charlottesville, Va., where she has been entertained by her many friends. She has now with her Miss Alice Du Bose, with whom she was visiting, who will spend a short time with her at her home, 280 I street.

Mrs. Fannie K. Levi has returned to the city, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Benjamin Frank, whom she has been visiting for the past ten days.

Mrs. Meyer Singer, of New York City, formerly Miss Blanche Lansburgh, of this city, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Charles Goldsmith, of 1910 Calvert street.

Mrs. M. Stern and family have taken an apartment at the Cliffbourne.

An engagement of interest to many Washington people is that of Miss Hazel Rothchild, of St. Louis, Mo., to Simon Nusbaum, of Clarksburg, W. Va.

The Washingtonians, a well known and popular club, gave its opening dance in National Rifles' Armory, Thursday evening. The hall was profusely decorated with palms and fern and the event was a very enjoyable one. Though the weather was very inclement, the dance was well attended, more than 100 couples being present. The programme consisted of twenty numbers and was under the direction of Prof. Fred Helbig, Jr. An interesting feature of the entertainment was two very pretty vocal solos by Misses Leonora Callan. The officers of the club are C. N. Phelps, president; Miss Anna Harmon, vice president; R. T. Bricker, secretary; Miss Marion Giddings, treasurer.

Mr. Palmer Littleton, of the American Bank, has taken apartments for the winter at Afton House.

Miss Mabel R. D. B. Goldsmith, of Warrenton, Va., has returned after a most pleasant trip to this city.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis Snow, 342 McLean avenue southwest, was the scene of a gathering of young people last Tuesday evening, the occasion being the fifteenth birthday of their daughter, Miss Bessie Louise Snow. The feature of the evening was the piano playing by Miss Mary Elliott and Miss Julia Koehler. Supper was served at 10 o'clock. The table was presided over by Mrs. Snow, assisted by her sisters, Mrs. C. Childers and Mrs. Barco. Games and dancing were indulged in until a late hour. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Barco, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Childers, Mr. and Mrs. Mart F. Thomas, the Misses Bessie Miller, Rose Boston, Leading Importers of Gloves in America.

An Exhibition of Exclusive Novelties in Imported Blouses, French Lingerie, Gloves, Neckwear, Leather Goods, Jewelry.

The collection comprises strictly exclusive novelties personally selected by the senior member of our firm in Paris—Berlin—and Vienna.

The woman who appreciates dainty apparel in styles and patterns that are new and totally different from the ordinary commercial productions will find special delight in selecting from this peerless assemblage of the world's best creations in fine wearables and novelties.

Blouses Beautiful French Blouses—all hand-made—in lingerie, silk, lace, net, crepe, and embroidered effects. Each style exclusive. Priced at $3.50 to $65.00.

Lingerie Dainty French Lingerie—exquisitely made by hand from finest French batiste, nain-sook, and handkerchief linen.

Gloves The most complete showing of Imported Gloves in America. Street Gloves, Evening Gloves, Automobile Gloves, Riding and Driving Gloves in strictly reliable qualities.

Ruchings Feather Ruchings, the latest novelties for evening wear, in beautiful pink and light blue colorings and black and white.

Unique effects in Wrist and Hand Bags, Vanity Bags, Street Satchels, Pocketbooks, Card Cases, &c., in colors to match the new fall costumes.

Beautiful novelties in Art Jewelry—not shown anywhere else in America—all Louvre Glove Co. importations.

Louvre Glove Co.

Importers,
931 F Street Northwest.

Julia Koehler, Pearl Pyles, Isabel Snow, Susie Elliott, Ruth Griffin, Rena and Estelle Barco, Eva Childers, and Mary Elliott, Masters Edwin and Elmer Childers, H. G. and C. F. Zimmerman, George J. and George F. Thomas, W. Sorrell, and Bernice Freeman.

The ladies of the Arion will give their first annual ball, October 22, at Masonic Temple.

Mrs. P. V. DeGraw, wife of the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, has returned to her home on Capitol Hill, after a visit to friends in Philadelphia.

Capt. and Mrs. Stewart M. Decker, of San Juan, are the guests of Mrs. Stewart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, of New York City, and before returning to Porto Rico will be the guests of Miss Katharine Nottingham, of Capitol Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. McFarland, of Capitol Hill, entertained for their son, Walter, at a dance on Friday evening, when the senior class of the Eastern High School were the guests, and included Miss King, Miss Gardner, Miss Wells, Miss McCoy, Miss Bane, Miss Tomlin, Miss Pyles, Miss Donn, Miss Gaston, Miss Stockett, Mr. Sanderson, Mr. Farmer, Mr. Johnston, Mr. Gardner, Mr. Eskin, Mr. Dumont, Mr. Robinette, and Mr. Titus.

Mrs. Stewart, of Capitol Hill, was hostess at a dinner Thursday evening. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer, of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffries, and Mr. and Mrs. Weller.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Crossman have returned to their home in Fifth street, Capitol Hill, after a visit in Maryland.

The woman's board of managers for the Casualty Hospital will receive from 10 to 6 o'clock on Wednesday, October 31, the occasion being "donation day." Cash donations and articles of service will be greatly appreciated.

The Yomoc Club gave the first of the series of dances for this season in Mrs. Dyer's ball room Tuesday evening.

Miss Clarke, of Capitol Hill, is the house guest of relatives in Boston.

Mrs. S. A. Manuel has returned to her home on Capitol Hill after a visit to her niece, Mrs. Jonathan Wainwright, Jr., of Overbrook, Pa.

Miss Evelyn, Price entertained a few members of the Sixteen Club in her home on Capitol Hill, Friday evening, when, presiding were Mrs. Pritchett, Miss Gardner, the Misses Conover, Mr. McPherson, Mr. Hall, and Mr. Robert Price.

Miss Alice Hanger has returned to her home in N street after the summer and early fall in Staunton and Fort Defiance, Va.

Miss Stuart, of Capitol Hill, entertained at luncheon for Miss Scott, of Alabama, Friday. To meet Miss Scott were Miss Caine, Miss Parker, Miss Crosswathie, Miss Browne, and Miss Jenkins, of Maryland.

Miss Clara Martin, who was recently the guest of Miss Janney, of Eighteenth street, has returned to her home in Charlottesville, Va.

Mr. Meredith, who spent last winter in Washington, left last week for Florida, where he will reside.

Miss Stewart entertained the Tuesday Morning Bridge Club, at her home on

Smoot, Coffey & McCalley,

1216 F St. Phone 725

A store whose stock is notable for quality and style.

New Suits

The most stylish Suits you'll see this season are assembled here. All are elegant creations—model productions from the foremost tailors of this country.

Beautiful Broadcloth Suits in all shades, priced up from $50. Tailor-made Suits of the latest mannish mixtures priced up from $37.50.

Suits of Cheviot and other good fabrics, for $25 and up.

Silk Petticoats

New Silk Petticoats, with full flare and accordion pleating in shades to match the street costumes.

Silk Waists

A wide variety of pretty styles in Plaid and Plain Color Silk Waists for street wear. Also many elegant creations in White and Black Lace Waists for evening wear. Reasonably priced.

Silk Jumpers

New and stylish Jackets for day wear. These Silk Jumpers are made in the most attractive manner and are shown in all desired shades. Priced at $4.00 and up.

Walking Skirts

Tailor-made Skirts of Broadcloth, Cheviot, Serge, Panama, and new mannish mixtures in black, blue, green, brown, &c. All the new styles. Priced up from $5.00.

New Robes

We are showing an elegant assortment of new and exclusive styles in fine Lace, Net and Spangled Robes. We import these robes direct and the styles cannot be duplicated.

White and Cream Point Liere Lace Robes priced up from $20. Fine Black Net Robes priced up from $18. Rich Black Spangled Robes for $15 and up.

Smoot, Coffey & McCalley
1216 F Street

Ladies' Tailoring

Formerly
1226 Fourteenth

Removed to 902 14th St.

Schwartz

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Formerly
1226 Fourteenth

Removed to 902 14th St.

KNABE PIANOS

In tone, action and durability, the peers of any other Pianos to be had. The Knabe Angelus is the combination of the Piano and the best self-playing attachment.

Wm. Knabe & Co.,
1218-1220 F St.

YOU GET PURE OLIVE OIL

—When you order here, we import the famous Lucca product direct and bottle it ourselves. Quality